

- the prosecuting attorney may, by written agreement with the defendant, filed with the court, and upon approval of the court, divert a defendant to a non-criminal diversion program.
 - (2) A defendant shall be represented by counsel during negotiations for diversion and at the time of execution of any diversion agreement unless he shall have knowingly and intelligently waived his right to counsel.
 - (3) The defendant has the right to be represented by counsel at any court hearing relating to a diversion program.
 - (4) Any diversion agreement entered into between the prosecution and the defense and approved by a magistrate shall contain a full, detailed statement of the requirements agreed to by the defendant and the reasons for diversion. A decision by a prosecuting attorney not to divert a defendant is not subject to judicial review.
 - [(5) Diversion programs longer than two years shall not be permitted.]
 - (5) Any diversion agreement entered into between the prosecution and the defense and approved by a magistrate may contain an order that the defendant pay a nonrefundable diversion fee, which shall be allocated in the same manner as if paid as a fine for a criminal conviction under Section 78A-5-110, or Section 78A-7-120, and which may not exceed the suggested fine listed in the Uniform Fine and Bail Forfeiture Schedule adopted by the Judicial Council.
 - (6) A diversion agreement [shall] may not be approved unless the defendant, before a magistrate and in the agreement, knowingly and intelligently waives his constitutional right to a speedy trial.
 - (7) (a) The court shall, on the defendant's request, consider the defendant's ability to pay a diversion fee before ordering the defendant to pay a diversion fee.
 - (b) The court may consider any relevant evidence in determining the defendant's ability to pay and may lower or waive the diversion fee based on that evidence.
 - (8) Diversion programs longer than two years are not permitted.
