

116TH CONGRESS 1ST SESSION

H. R. 4097

To require a report on the participation of Afghan women in negotiations and dialogue relating to the Afghan peace process and a strategy for post-conflict engagement by the United States in Afghanistan, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

July 30, 2019

Mr. Keating (for himself, Mrs. Wagner, Ms. Frankel, and Mr. Wilson of South Carolina) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs

A BILL

To require a report on the participation of Afghan women in negotiations and dialogue relating to the Afghan peace process and a strategy for post-conflict engagement by the United States in Afghanistan, and for other purposes.

- 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
- 2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
- 3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.
- 4 This Act may be cited as the "Afghan Women's In-
- 5 clusion in Negotiations Act".
- 6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.
- 7 Congress finds the following:

- 1 (1) The Women, Peace, and Security Act of
 2 2017 was signed into law on October 6, 2017, re3 quiring the United States Government to promote
 4 the meaningful participation of women in all aspects
 5 of overseas conflict prevention, management, and
 6 resolution, and postconflict relief and recovery ef7 forts.
 - (2) The meaningful participation of women in peace negotiations has been shown to make resulting peace agreements 35 percent more likely to last, according to the International Peace Institute, and their sustained engagement and leadership in conflict prevention and conflict resolution processes helps to promote more inclusive and democratic societies and is critical to the long-term stability of countries and regions.
 - (3) The United States National Security Strategy states, "governments that fail to treat women equally do not allow their societies to reach their potential" and "societies that empower women to participate fully in civic and economic life are more prosperous and peaceful".
 - (4) Today, millions of Afghan women have voted in elections and women have a significant presence in the National Assembly, ministries, local

- government, and the diplomatic corps including as Afghanistan's Ambassador to the United States.
- 3 (5) According to the United States Institute of 4 Peace, more than 68,000 Afghan women are em-5 ployed in schools and universities, and at least 6 10,000 women are doctors and health care profes-7 sionals.
 - (6) Afghan women entrepreneurs have invested an estimated $77 million in their businesses, creating 77,000 jobs for Afghans.
 - (7) In 2015, Afghanistan approved a National Action Plan on Women, Peace, and Security to increase women's participation in peace processes and the security sector as well as address issues around protection and relief and recovery services.
 - (8) In 2018, Afghanistan reaffirmed its Law to Eliminate Violence Against Women.
 - (9) Afghan women have advocated relentlessly for peace, equality, and basic rights under the Taliban, including by educating the next generation of Afghans in underground schools and successfully negotiating with the Taliban to reopen girls' schools, release hostages, and prevent violence.
- (10) Afghan women participated in the 2001
 Bonn International Conference on Afghanistan, par-

- 1 ticipated alongside then-President Karzai at the
- 2 2010 National Consultative Peace Jirga on reconcili-
- ation between the Afghan government and insurgent
- 4 leaders, served on the country's Provincial Peace
- 5 Councils, and today serve on Afghanistan's High
- 6 Peace Council.
- 7 (11) Through various coalitions, women have
- 8 mobilized to demand an immediate ceasefire and
- 9 their rightful seat at the table including through ral-
- lies and consultations with communities across all of
- 11 Afghanistan's provinces, including a "Peace Consult-
- 12 ative Loya Jirga" which brought together politi-
- cians, tribal elders, and other prominent leaders to
- decide on a common approach for peace talks with
- the Taliban.
- 16 (12) Over the first seven rounds of bilateral
- talks between the United States and the Taliban,
- neither the Afghan Government nor Afghan women
- or civil society groups were permitted to participate
- in the negotiations.
- 21 SEC. 3. SENSE OF CONGRESS.
- It is the sense of Congress that—
- 23 (1) corresponding with the Women, Peace, and
- Security Act of 2017 (Public Law 115–68) and the
- U.S. Strategy on Women, Peace, and Security, the

- United States has a commitment to promoting the meaningful participation of women throughout the Afghan peace process;
 - (2) representatives of Afghan women, youth, and other marginalized groups from rural and urban provinces and especially from those most affected by violence, should meaningfully participate and engage in all peace talks, implementation commissions, and other bodies if an agreement is reached, alongside the Government of Afghanistan, the Afghan political opposition, and the Taliban, and that their security must be protected throughout and their concerns prioritized in those respective agendas;
 - (3) training and gender expertise should be made available to the United States mediators of the peace talks and all participating delegations, including one or more gender advisors with expertise in structuring inclusive peace process and conflict mediation, and who have local language skills and mediation expertise to establish a safe communication channel for engagement with and training of a diverse range of Afghan women's groups;
 - (4) financial, technical, and logistical support, including security precautions for their protection, should be provided to women delegates to the talks,

- 1 mediators, peace builders, and stakeholders, enabling 2 them to travel safely to and from the location of the
- 3 peace talks and to meaningfully participate; and
- 4 (5) a component of any international aid pack-5 age that is awarded to Afghanistan as part of the
- 6 peace process should be directed to programming fo-
- 7 cused on gender equality and women's empower-
- 8 ment, including for efforts to ensure that implemen-
- 9 tation of the peace agreement is shaped by gender
- analysis, and that funds are made available as
- grants for local Afghan women-led and women's em-
- powerment organizations as well as for education
- and necessary services for women and girls.

14 SEC. 4. REPORT.
