Esther Ford

Esther Ford is an advanced-level certified re-entry support specialist dedicated to increasing engagement and linkages with the returning citizen community.

Ms. Ford, herself a returning citizen, personally experienced the challenges of reintegration in the community, including the effects of stigma associated with incarceration, which directly impacts and limits housing and employment opportunities. She has dedicated herself to serve as a model for the possibility of leading a productive and fulfilling life as an active member in her community.

Ms. Ford founded the First Stop Recovery Resource and Wellness Center (FSRWC), a community-based organization committed to the recovery of all those who are challenged by behavioral health conditions and overcoming all other addictive behaviors, including veterans, returning citizens, homeless, geriatric, members of LGBTQ population, and youth. FSRWC places special emphasis on high-risk individuals and uses a peer leader model to directly impact clients.

A Ward 8 resident, Ms. Ford is an advocate for social change and holds numerous certifications.
