CA GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE REINETTE SENUM FAVORS SIRHAN PAROLE Stunned at Newsom's Reversal of Parole Board Decision

Nevada City, CA, May 5, 2022 – "I was stunned when I heard that Governor Newsom denied parole to Sirhan Sirhan," says California gubernatorial candidate Reinette Senum. "I have no doubt that Sirhan is wrongfully imprisoned. If elected governor, I will support the Parole Board and push for his release."

"The evidence has been ample for decades that Sirhan did not kill Robert F. Kennedy," says Ms. Senum. "Whatever put him on the scene, he likely would have received an easy parole a long time ago, were his case not so politically charged and controversial."

"I am not a Democrat. I am not a Republican. I am a Californian," say Ms. Senum. "And California locks up a higher percentage of its population than almost any other democracy on earth. My quest is to bring equity and fairness to every Californian as part of a long train of improvements."

The California Primary is on June 7, 2022. Reinette Senum website is www.electreinette.com.

Reinette Senum is a fourth-generation Californian who spent her early years exploring the world. In 1994, she crossed Alaska alone, and filmed her trek for National Geographic. She has served twice as mayor and city council member of Nevada City, a small Northern California community. For nearly 20 year she has engaged in rebuilding the community to be more resilient, calling out corruption, and working with local and regional residents and business owners to prepare for a more challenging and unpredictable future. As governor she will focus on the entire state's resiliency by restructuring the state's economy based on healing and restoration. Specifically, rebuilding topsoil and pollinator populations, expanding regenerative farming, investing in mom and pop businesses, ensuring intelligent water allocation, ending houselessness, reducing crime, ensuring bodily autonomy, reforming the education system, expanding Indigenous land stewardship, and building a movement that engages all ages and advocates for the next seven generations of California.
